Part One: Record your ideas

Think about your life in six-month's time. What possibilities could be there? What can you be sure about? Record your ideas on the Table of Certainty.

Part Two: Write a poem

Try turning some of your ideas into a poem. You could use some of the patterns from Matt Abbott's poem.

If you can, either make a recording of your poem and share it with someone else or perform it for someone else.

Bonus Extension: Use the Table of Certainty to interview others about their ideas of the future. What will they possibly, maybe and certainly be doing?

Part One: Read a newspaper article

- Read First News – Frank Mills. Which three facts do you think are most important in this story?
- Read Frank Mills – Questions. Think about your answers and then write them carefully as sentences.

Part Two: Your Picture

Draw a picture of something fun you plan or hope to do this summer

Write underneath an explanation of what is happening in the picture. Explain what it is you plan or hope to do. It can be with friends or family and it can be at home or somewhere else. Can you use some adverbs of possibility?

Bonus Extension: Present your picture to someone else and explain why you have chosen to draw it.
