Focus Book: The Tunnel by Anthony Browne

English

This half term the children will be looking at several books by Anthony Browne. There will be a particular focus on the Tunnel. The children will develop their extended writing skills in the style of Anthony Browne. They will implement taught grammar such as: adverbs for cause, place and time; paragraphs and punctuating speech accurately.

In the second part of the half term, the children will be looking at writing a persuasive leaflet to convince people to visit St Neots. This will build on the knowledge which they have developed about St Neots, in particular using the knowledge from the guided trip around the town by the St Neots Museum staff. The children will be taught how to use persuasive techniques such as: rhetorical questions, alliteration and short, impactful sentences.

Maths

Calculation – Children will apply different strategies to subtract efficiently including regrouping the start number in order to make the taking away easier. They will also explore the approach of compensation by taking away 10 and adding one back on when asked to subtract 9. Through looking at fact families, the children will develop their understanding of the inverse relationship between addition and subtraction. When adding, the children will be introduced to formal written methods looking at each place value in turn. Diagrams will continue to be used to deepen the children's understanding of exchanging ten ones for one lot of ten.
