

The ONLY Angel With Wings

Night strikes, as Skellig is born
His black, bright big body is torn
He laughed but he did not smile...

His wings crawled out free, as he flapped past me
But he's locked in a cage, he needs a key
He laughed but he did not smile...

An ode of joy climbed out free
But slipped inside, As the moon shone it's breeze
He laughed but he did not smile...

Silence slipped, as he grew old
He laughed and he smiled.... slightly

He flew out free, as destiny leads his way
He laughed... Will he come back?... he smiled... As he struck heaven again...

The creeks and cracks of the world, Helped Skellig free.
Will he come back? don't ask me?
The soul inside shaped his wings and heart
The only...

Angel with wings
